PRINCESS LOUISE'S CHAIR. Quite a little excitement has been occasioned, says the Ottawa Free Press, by the rumour that the Hon. D. L. Macoherson. Speaker of the Senate, had ordered the chair formerly occupied by the Princess Louise. on the throne in the Scante Chamber, to be cut down and used as the Speaker's chair. Such vandalism, and the barefaced appropriation of what may be called a Canadian historical subject, by the Speaker of the Senate—who has the right to take the chair used by him as his own personal property has caused no end of comment. A reporter visited the Senate Chamber and found that the story is true: the only chair on the throne is that of the Governor-General, and the Princess' chair has been removed from its place. The carpenters have not yet commenced their work of desecration of the relic. and it is to be hoped the Government will valuables in the historical museum than an-1 propriated by the Speaker of the Senate and his personal effects.

A NINETEENTH CENTURY PASTIME. A" purring match," or, in other words, a scientific shin-kicking contest, took place at Camden, New Jersey, on the 12th ult., and excited much interest. The principals were two men named Robert Tavish and David McWilliams, and the stakes 250 dols. a side. wished the "purring" to be conducted with regulation shoes—that is to say, brogans with a crescent-shaped piece of horn set in the toe. Tavish objected, on the ground that he did not wish to be crippled for life and, after much wrangling, it was decided that the men should " purr" with a new pair of "No. 7 brogans." After shaking hands. the kicking began. For five minutes the men danced round each other exchanging kicks which did not take effect. In the second round Tavish managed to plant a round McWilliams "forced the kicking," and from this time to the end of the contest " went as he pleased," making ugly cuts or bruisés every time be kicked.
